

Certificate of Source

We hereby certify the
African Wild Olive tonewood utilized in this instrument
Oregon Wild Wood item # _____, was sourced as follows:

This African Wild Olive Wood was originally harvested in Zambia, Africa in the 1990's, then transported to the high desert in central Oregon, where it air dried for 15 years. This species is nearly the same hardness as Ebony, much harder than European Olive.

We purchased this beautiful wood, transported it to our shop and converted it into tonewood components. To the best of our knowledge, the harvest, export and import of this item was in compliance with all applicable laws.
